CARE HOME STAFF SURVEY

- The COVID-19 pandemic required health and care services to rapidly adapt to how they supported residents living in care homes who were particularly vulnerable to COVID-19.
 - Based on the data collated from an independent survey run in Wandsworth by Healthwatch Wandsworth in July 2020, the SWL CCG (Richmond), Richmond Local Authority and Public Health worked in partnership to develop a joint plan that answers the main areas identified in the original survey.
 - We believe the results of the Wandsworth survey would be applicable to other areas, including Richmond.

Mental Health and wellbeing offer for staff and residents	The survey results said that mental health and wellbeing support for both staff and residents could be better. We will support care home residents through the MDTs with wider community and wellbeing services.
	Care home staff stated that not all their health and safety needs were met. We will work with our Public Health colleagues to develop and implement an outbreak strategy that presents a clear process including use of PPE, general supplies and shielding advice.	We have published our Local outbreak plan and we will be working with care homes to ensure a joint approach (CCG, LA) is in place for future outbreaks. In partnership with our Public Health colleagues we have developed local guidance for safer visits to care homes during the coronavirus pandemic .
	Staff stated that residents (especially residents with dementia) often were confused or did not like staff wearing PPE.	We will publish information and advice on how to interact with residents with dementia.	We have developed a short online guide on how to support care homes who are taking care of residents with dementia .
