

KEW ROAD, KEW GARDENS & LAWN CRESCENT

The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew is now a World Heritage Site
 "Buffer Zones" around a World Heritage Site are recommended by UNESCO for the proper conservation of the cultural property.
 Application for development or changes of use in this Buffer Zone will need to demonstrate they are compatible with the primary aim of safeguarding the outstanding universal value of the World Heritage Site

KEY

- Conservation Area boundary
- Conservation Area boundary extension
- Listed Building
- Building of Townscape Merit
- New Building of Townscape Merit
- Article 4(2) Direction
- New Article 4(2) Direction
- World Heritage Site Buffer Zone

CONSERVATION AREAS

- Kew Gardens
- Lawn Crescent
- Kew Road

Based upon Ordnance Survey data. © Crown Copyright. All rights reserved 100019441 [2007].

